It seems that as adults, we look back and see that we have missed something in our life that we can never get back. It’s funny we talk about a cat having nine lives and therefore having no worries about making mistakes. As a coach, I started out trying to be the next Vince Lombardi. After many years of learning from mistakes, I have learned to focus on being a coach who could make a difference in those student-athletes lives. I want to reach them in a way, that what they learn stays with them for life. I have coached for 27 years and all of the kids have taught me many things as I try to coach them. The biggest lesson is that coaching is not just about the wins and losses.

On my journey, I have been the “aloof” coach, the “I know more than you” coach, and even the “I’m the players friend” coach. However, after my many years, I discovered that the kids will forget about what you know and about what you did. They really will only remember how you made them feel. Wow, did this revelation hit me hard! It changed my whole outlook on coaching. Snyder will probably be my last stop before retiring. Every place that I have been has contributed to making me a better person and a better coach. I am glad to be a part of the Snyder Tiger family. Coach James Polk and Coach Bradley Weese, thank you for letting me be a part of your staff. Your support has meant a lot to me and that “Tiger Pride” is contagious.

The kids are always the reason for the season and as coaches we all strive to put them first. Sometimes you can’t help taking the days events and the kids home with you. I know that before my two feet hit the floor in the morning, I make it my mission to look for and find the best in each and every kid that I coach that day. Every day I challenge them to look for and find the best in themselves and each other, which is important, because this habit rubs off on them in class and in life. The skills learned and the new habits they carry will never equal the lifelong friends they have made in athletics. The benefit of seeing everyone as someone who has other strengths than ourself is a life long benefit. In the end, this makes us a better person and better off for knowing our teammates and fellow coaches. The kids forget about the ME and think about the WE.

When my career will end, I will take pleasure in knowing that these young ladies will be in good hands at Snyder Jr. High. Coach Bailey, Coach Reneau, and Coach Bredemeyer push the kids to be their best every day in every way. Coach Stephanie Roden is a 1st year coach and her passion for the kids and their growth as athletes and people /children helps to make a difference. in their lives. This is the tradition I most want someone to carry on as a coach. It is more important than the wins and losses, and it is the glue that makes coaching worthwhile. I challenge all of you as professionals to encourage our young coaches who will take our place to take time to make a difference. Otherwise, some kids will not have the chance to see the value in themselves or in athletics. In short, we may not have nine lives but we can work together to give other lives meaning and purpose. Coaches thank you for what you do and do not forget you make a difference.

UIL VOLLEYBALL SCHEDULE START DATE 2016-17

As part of the Sunset Review process initiated by the Texas Legislature, the UIL convened a Review Advisory Committee as well as Contest Rules Committees for each of our competition divisions in Academics, Athletics and Music.

One of the proposals recommended by the Athletic Contest Rules Committee, and approved by the UIL Legislative Council in October, relates to adjusting seasons of volleyball, basketball and soccer to allow school administrators to determine whether to conduct Regional Tournaments in those activities (volleyball, basketball and soccer).

As the effective date for this rule change is August 1, 2016, this change will not impact the volleyball season for the 2016-17 school year as the calendar for 2016 would put the start date of volleyball in July (prior to the effective date). As such, even if the rule is approved by the Commissioner of Education as required by law, it would not have any impact on the dates currently listed in the tentative UIL calendar for the 2016-17 school year for volleyball.

Practice for volleyball will still begin on the first Monday in August (August 1, 2016); scrimmages could begin on August 5; and matches could begin August 8, 2016.

If approved by the Commissioner as mentioned above, the rule change will have an impact on both basketball and soccer schedules for the 2016-17 school year. UIL will release more information related to this rule change upon approval by the Commissioner of Education.
Winter is coming and it provides its own set of unique challenges. Cold weather, holiday meals, and vacation time disrupt our schedules, workouts, and typical calorie intake. We all have to take steps to make the disruption as minimal as possible. As coaches we have extremely busy schedules and these tips will help you not tank yourself over the winter.

TIP 1: DON'T TAKE A VACATION ON YOUR DIET!

There are plenty of occasions to use as excuses to over-consume. However, you need to maintain healthy eating habits because food is fuel, and if you put bad in you’ll get bad out. Eating properly will allow your body to regulate itself. The inevitable “cheat meals” should involve consuming a moderate portion of your favorite indulgence, not over-eating. Most importantly, the right diet gives you the fuel to optimize any training.

TIP 2: WATER ISN'T JUST FOR THE SUMMER!

Just because the weather isn’t triple digits you should still be consuming a large amount of water. Dehydration can creep up on you in the winter when it’s so cold you can’t sweat if you tried.

TIP 3: THE PRINCIPLE OF ACCUMULATION: ANYTHING IS BIGGER THAN ZERO!

Be encouraged by the fact that not every workout has to be epic. Aim to break a sweat then go from there. If you’re not feeling it, then focus on less intensive sessions on what we call Cuff and Stuff. This consists of core work and joint work like strengthening the secondary yet important stabilizer muscles in the knees and shoulders. Light band and abdominal work does more benefit than you may realize. Worst case scenario, just jump on a piece of cardio equipment, start going light and see what happens.

TIP 4: ACCLIMATE... ADAPT... PREPARE

Do not avoid the weather, just prepare for it. As temperatures drop, spend time in the cold, breathe the air and let your body acclimate. If you avoid the cold your body will not be prepared to do the work you ask it to do. The more active you are in any climate the more normal it will seem to your body. If you’ve committed to getting exercise, then be smart doing it. Dress appropriately and prepare your body for physical activity.

TIP 5: TAKE MORE TIME TO WARM UP AND WARM DOWN IN THE WINTER.

As temperatures drop, so does your core, muscle and oxygen temperature. Cold muscles are at greater risk of injury due to their tension and lack of blood flow. Dynamic stretches before and static stretches after is always a good rule of thumb. You should be breaking a sweat and your heart rate should be up before engaging in your actual activity.

TIP 6: COLD WEATHER TRAINING BURNS MORE CALORIES.

If you are maintaining relatively the same activity level in the winter as other months, you are burning more calories in the colder months. You burn more fuel just keeping your body warm (calories are a unit of heat). Popular belief says that we lose more weight in the summer. This is only true because we are more active in the summer, we tend to eat less when it is hot and we lose more water in the heat. Watch what you eat and maintain your activity level and the winter months can be just as beneficial to weight management.

TIP 7: DON'T TAKE A VACATION ON YOUR SLEEP!

Rest and recovery will forever and always be a crucial. When you get quality sleep, it facilitates your day, your work, your play and most everything in between. Enjoy the holidays and visit www.DX3Athlete.com to see more about properly preparing athletes.

SUB-VARSITY YEARS OF SERVICE RECOGNITION AWARD

Adopted by the TGCA Board of Directors at the July 7, 2008 Meeting

Sub-Varsity coaches with 5 and 10 years of service will be presented with a certificate at the General Business Meeting at Summer Clinic, and Sub-Varsity coaches with 15 and above years of service will be presented with a plaque at the Honor Awards Banquet at Summer Clinic, as a Years of Service Recognition Award. Awards will be presented in five year increments. All Sub-Varsity coaches must be a member in good standing of the Texas Girls Coaches Association as of November 1 of the current school year to receive a Years of Service Award. The individual may coach multiple sports, but cannot be the head coach in volleyball, basketball, or softball. Sub-Varsity coaches meeting this criteria should submit their documentation to the TGCA office before June 1st of the qualifying year.
THE KAY YOW CANCER FUND

During the final stages of her battle with cancer, Coach Kay Yow had a vision to unite a nation of coaches, players, and the women’s basketball community to do something for the greater good that far exceeds wins and losses on the court.

The Kay Yow Cancer Fund was born in December, 2007 and is a charitable organization committed to being a part of finding an answer in the fight against women’s cancers by raising funds for scientific research, assisting the underserved, and unifying people for a common cause. To date, the Fund has allocated more than $5 million in support of women’s cancer research.

Coach Yow envisioned the women’s athletic community doing it’s part by funding research at a level that will create significant results – and lead to a cure. We can only do this with your help.

Play 4Kay is the grassroots fundraising initiative of the Kay Yow Cancer Fund. It was originally called Think Pink, later became Pink Zone and most recently and finally, Play 4Kay. Any sport, group or organization can host a Play 4Kay fundraiser, which allows for unique and creative ways to fundraise that will resonate with your fans and communities.

The entire “pink phenomenon” in women’s athletics actually began during the 2004-05 season when Coach Yow’s cancer recurred, after being in remission for 17 years. An email was sent to coaches encouraging them to have their teams wear pink in honor of Coach Yow and all those battling cancer.

Several years later, this movement resulted in the establishment of the Kay Yow Cancer Fund and the fundraising initiative known as Play 4Kay.

Coach Yow wanted to be a part of finding an answer in the fight against women’s cancers and she believed we would make a greater impact as a collective team, working together to accomplish one goal. Her goal was for Play 4Kay events to benefit the Kay Yow Cancer Fund to support advanced research, extend the quality of life for those battling cancer, and provide hope - so that one day, we can put and end to this formidable disease.

1. Support the Kay Yow Cancer Fund as the TGCA’s Charity of Choice.
2. Find ways to raise and donate money to the Kay Yow Cancer Fund.
3. Make a significant difference in the fight against women’s cancers!

1 Sobering Statistics. Between 5% and 20% of Americans (of all ages) will get the flu during a particular year. Of those individuals, approximately 200,000 on average, will be hospitalized. As such, up to 49,000 people will die each year from flu-related causes, which makes influenza (along with pneumonia) the eight leading cause of death in American men.

2 Not the same. A cold and the flu, while having a few similar symptoms, are quite different conditions. Knowing these differences can lead to more appropriate, as well as more effective, treatment. The main characteristic they share is the fact that they’re both respiratory illnesses. Unlike the common cold (which is called “common” for a reason), the flu can develop into something more serious (such as pneumonia, for example). Another key difference is the fact that the flu is generally seasonal (i.e., transpiring from the fall to the spring, peaking during the winter months). In contrast, a cold can occur at any time.

3 Cause and effect. Seasonal flu is caused by the active strains of a variety of flu viruses. While most healthcare experts agree that at least three different flu viruses currently exist in America, all types of flu tend to have similar symptoms, including a fever, a dry, hacking cough, a sore throat, aching muscles, a running or stuffy nose, chills, fatigue, etc. As a rule, most typical cases of the flu run their course in a week or less.

4 A risky situation. The flu is a highly contagious viral infection of the respiratory tract that affects individuals of all ages, some more than others. Among the groups that are more likely to experience complications from the seasonal flu are children, pregnant women, older adults, and people who are suffering from one or more chronic health conditions.

5 Sensible safeguards. The flu is spread by virus-infected droplets that are coughed or sneezed into the air. Individuals get the flu by either having these germs land in their mouth or nose or by touching a surface or object on which these droplets have landed and then touching their mouth, nose, or eyes. As such, people can take certain steps to help protect themselves, including washing their hands frequently with soap and water, avoiding touching their eyes, nose and mouth, and practicing sound health habits.

6 Improving the odds. Overwhelmingly, most experts believe that the best way for individuals to protect themselves from the flu is to be vaccinated. In that regard, the common recommendation is that everyone who is six months or older should get vaccinated annually (preferably in September) against the flu.

7 Mimicking the real thing. Vaccines help individuals develop immunity to the flu by imitating a particular infection in their body. This infection causes the person’s immune system to produce “memory” antibodies. In turn, this supply of antibodies, which typically is produced within a few weeks after the individual is vaccinated, remembers how to fight the flu in the future.

8 Nothing worthwhile is ever easy. Developing flu vaccines can be challenging for several reasons. First and foremost, flu viruses are constantly changing and mutating—sometimes suddenly and in other instances over time. Because these changes occur frequently enough, an individual’s immune system often can’t recognize a particular flu virus from year to year. Accordingly, a new flu vaccine must be developed every year.

9 The best medicine. As a rule, fluids and rest are the most effective means for treating the flu. Individuals can also take certain over-the-counter medicines to help provide relatively immediate relief for their symptoms. For example, a decongestant can help relieve such symptoms as sneezing, nasal discharge, watery eyes, and itching.

10 Myths and madness. Like many subjects, considerable misinformation exists concerning the flu. One of the biggest whoppers involving the flu is the claim that “the flu vaccine can give a person the flu.” In fact, it is an impossibility, given the fact that injected flu vaccines only contain dead viruses, which are incapable of infecting anyone. Another folk tale involving the flu is that “the flu is annoying, but harmless.” The underlying falsehood of this particular myth is illustrated by the fact that the flu kills more than twice the number of Americans who die annually from AIDS.
